

TELEBELTS® PLACE FRACKING SAND

NEWEST ADDITION TO OIL & GAS SERVICE INDUSTRIES

For the past two decades, Putzmeister Telebelt® conveyors have been placing concrete and other flowable materials at job sites around the world. Recently, oil well and gas field service companies have discovered the efficiencies and productivity gains possible by using the Telebelt mobile telescopic belt conveyor system.

The Telebelt TBS 130, a self-contained conveyor system, is capable of a 126 foot, six inch (38.56m) horizontal boom reach and 110 foot, nine inch (33.74m) reach at a 29-degree angle to extend out and across several sand containers and tanks to reach access doors.

With an 18-inch (457mm) wide conveyor belt capable of 0 to 950 ft/min (0 to 290 m/min) output, the TBS 130 has been documented unloading 45 tons of sand in 45 minutes. This same load would have required three hours to off-load pneumatically.

TELEBELTS HELP OIL WELL SERVICE COMPANIES TO:

- Reduce unloading time by up to 75 percent.
- Reduce demurrage costs due to an increased speed when unloading.
- Utilize more readily available double drop grain trailers.
- Eliminate need for specialized trailers.
- Reduce energy costs associated with pneumatic systems.
- Reduce site noise with quiet operation.
- Service multiple sites with quick set up and tear down of the conveyor.
- Increase mobility.

Photos for illustrative purposes only. ©Putzmeister America, Inc. 2013
Right to make technical amendments reserved. Printed in USA (0.11301)

PMA 0171 US

Putzmeister

The efficiency of the Telebelt in oil and gas applications lowers unloading costs.

A Chevron belt pattern effectively conveys fracking sand.

The Telebelt provides both smooth and precise placement of sand.

Pneumatic bulk handling trailers have been replaced with more readily available double drop grain trailers that are less costly to operate. This allows greater flexibility in scheduling as well as lowered demurrage costs associated with the loading and unloading cycle.

Putzmeister America, Inc.
1733 90th Street
Sturtevant, WI 53177 USA
Phone: (800) 884-7210
Fax: (262) 884-6338
PutzmeisterAmerica.com